Hi Sunil,

The BLT HR was successfully reviewed by the JSERP. JSERP concurs. There were no changes. Can you send me the BLT HR without the highlighted areas and in a .pdf? I will submit the CR next week. I can pull the presentation from JSERP website.

Gentlemen,

I heard recently that the DAT received an award by the crew last week for work done on STS-127. It was not clear whether you were included in the award or ceremony. Nonetheless, please know that your management sincerely appreciates your dedication to mission support on the DAT. It's a vital element of our role in the shuttle program and everything you do to make TPS and RCC safer makes a huge impact. Thanks and congratulations on a well deserved honor.

Sunil - Great job on this. I am happy that you got some exposure to the design and development aspects of hazard analysis. You are one of the few members on our team that now knows how to prepare a SAR, perform hazard analyses, and document residual risks in formal hazard reports. This is a good example of true Systems Engineering.

Thanks for completing a quality product on schedule.

Subodh,

It's worth noting that Sunil has taken the lead role in ensuring that these documents are updated adequately, and submitted for proper QC reviews. He has shown true leadership quality necessary for the successful release of this next version of the architecture framework & supporting documentation!
